ENGAGEMENTS

Wilson-Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wilson announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lucille, to Mr. Bolivar Bowen, Jr., the wedding to take place on the evening of March 22.

McGowan-Cooke.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McGowan announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lucille, to Mr. W. J. Cooke, the wedding to take place at St. Bridget's church on Tuesday evening, Feb. 18. No cards.

ENTERTAINMENTS

For Attractive Guests.

Mrs. Edward C. Turner will entertain informally with an afternoon tea from 2 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in honor of her two lovely guests, Mrs. Charles N. Burch in honor of Col. and Mrs. Fred West, of Jackson, Miss.

Dinner for Guests.

Among the attractive affairs which will be given at the Memphis Country club Saturday evening will be the dinner party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Burch in honor of Col. and Mrs. Fred West, of Jackson, Tenn., and Maj. and Mrs. Battle Malone.

Colonial Country Club.

Society yearns for the ever new and mysterious, which may account for the increasing popularity of fancy dress and masquerade balls.

One of the most brilliant affairs of this kind will be the fancy dress ball at the Colonial Country club Saturday, Feb. 22. As it will be given on George Washington's birthday, it is probable that "George" and "Martha" will be much in evidence.

The ball is being eagerly anticipated, and a number of parties have been arranged, including several in honor of attractive visitors in the city.

Dancing will start at 8 o'clock, and an elaborate buffet luncheon will be served at 11. The committee on arrangements for the club hopes to make this the most successful social event of the year, and all indications are that the ball will be a beautiful and enjoyable one.

For Miss Hyde.

Miss Josephine Hyde, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hyde, will be the heroine of a dancing party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Saturday evening at the Colonial Country club. Younger society will have the pleasure of attending the affair.

Miss Johnson Entertained.

Miss Virginia Johnson, a leader of the Memphis subside set, is being delightfully entertained in Atlanta, Ga., by the guests of Miss Elizabeth Hays, a popular member of the subside set of that city. One of the most beautiful affairs of the season was the Valentine party which was given in Miss Johnson's honor at the Atlanta Country club Friday evening. Before the party, Miss Johnson will go to Chicago and other Eastern cities.

Colonial Ball.

Such a glorious good time, and good-natured, gracious, and to be no more. It just goes to show that once in awhile there is a time when men just don't "it" in any of the ways that usually they are handy things to have about.

Colonial ball, being planned by members of the Young Women's club, is going to be quite a brilliant event, and so far, no one who has been included on the guest list, the plan being that each girl is to come in fancy dress, and the hostess will give a little electric sparkles burning everywhere, and other fiery effects.

The Colonial idea is to be carried out in the decorations and refreshments, and a number of entertaining surprises are being planned for the guests for the evening.

Rex Club Cabaret.

Plans are being made by the entertainment committee of the Rex club for a most elaborate and unique cabaret ball to be given Saturday evening, Feb. 22, at 8 o'clock.

The ballroom will be artistically decorated for the occasion, a George Washington.

For Graduates.

The Central High Alumnae association will entertain the members of the February graduating class on the evening of Feb. 25 at 8:15, with an attractive and entertaining program of music and addresses.

Valentine Dinner Party.

St. Valentine beamed down with evidently the greatest approval upon the jolly gathering of young people who assembled Friday evening at the London Avenue Christian church to celebrate the feast of St. Valentine with a dinner party given by the Philanthropic club, of which Mrs. Walter Gray is teacher.

Clusters of hearts of all sizes adorned the parlors of the church and young suspended from the ceiling, forming passageways from the main entrance.

In the dining room a profusion of hearts and arrows were used, and crepe ribbon in red and white formed a lattice work which was most attractive.

The tables at which the guests were seated were arranged in the shape of a huge cross, in the four corners of which were placed smaller tables. Baskets of flowers, tied with large tulle bows, marked the center of each table, and at each place dainty hearts were used as favors.

More than a hundred guests enjoyed the delicious dinner course, during which they were entertained by a number of clever toasts on various topics, and several splendid musical numbers.

Moose Cabaret Dance.

Members of Memphis Moose lodge, No. 153 and their friends will be the guests at an entertainment Monday night. The occasion will be a dancing party at Lyceum hall, Second and Jefferson, from 11 to 12:30 the Moose clubroom at 162 Court avenue will be open and a cabaret entertainment will take place. The clubrooms will be open throughout the evening for those who do not attend the dance.

Fair Women, Brave Men.

"A Dream of Fair Women and Brave Men" will be the beautiful tableau to be presented by the graduating class of C. H. S. this year, as their class play entertainment, and nothing could be more appropriate at the present time.

The tableau, which will be given Feb. 18, at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium of Central high, has been arranged and directed by Miss Florence Schloss, teacher of expression, at the school.

Costumes and scenes, to say nothing of the attractive graduates who will take part, will make it one of the most successful of a dancing party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Saturday evening at the Colonial Country club.

Younger society will have the pleasure of attending the affair.

COMMUNITY SERVICE PLEDGE OF GIRLS

"Community Service," that's a mighty good motto for young business women to have, and because it means progress and pleasure for them and pride and progress for their community at the same time.

Probably the biggest after-the-war organization in Memphis at present is the War Lamp Community service league, girls' division.

It is one of those things that the girls have been longing for without exactly knowing what it was they wanted, and needed, so when it came they were ready for it, and within one month it has grown to be one of the most significant and inclusive organizations for recreational and community work for girls and business women in the city.

It might be called a leader of leaders, for it works through all the other organizations, without preference or bias, its sole aim being to further the welfare and interests of the girls of Memphis.

One splendid thing that shows more clearly than words can tell, the true meaning of community service is a phrase of the pledge which the girls take when entering the organization. Each group of girls, in many cases, girls individually pledge to do one good thing which would be of value and interest to some person but to their city.

The Girl Scouts, troop No. 31, is a splendid example of real service and usefulness. Every day throughout the year they carry wood, coal and water for an aged little crippled lady, who has no one to do these things for her. It isn't charity on their part—merely service for someone who lives in the community, and the comradeship, jolly spirit in which they perform the little tasks add double value to them in the little lady's satisfaction.

The little group at the St. John's Methodist Episcopal church, which are accomplishing at the Wesley house, are another place where they are some of them, working where they are most needed, always with a smile and a spirit.

Each group does something to make others happy, and to make their city a better place. The girls of the War Lamp Community service in turn is giving them the little pleasures and benefits which they most desire.

The executive committee for the organization is Miss Montgomery Cooper, the treasurer, Miss E. S. Moore, Miss Porter, J. Q. Eaton, Joseph Newburger, H. L. Armstrong, Edwin Streuf, J. L. Porter, Miss Turner, C. L. Johnston, E. C. Allen, Charles J. Barnett, Dr. R. B. Maury, Mesdames William Floyd, Arthur S. Buchanan, Walter Gray, S. H. Montgomery, Daniel Grant, J. G. Walker, E. J. Reese, and E. S. Williams.

Business Committee—News Scimitar, Ida Mynders, Commercial Appeal, Margaret Forbes, Memphis Press-Scimitar, and representatives of 20 organizations do.

eration, and Mrs. Hopper, president of the League, association, made interesting talks.

Plans were made to entertain the graduates of the school, and the various committees were read. The 4-1 grade, Miss Swann, teacher, was the speaker, and the largest number of mothers present.

Beethoven Concert.

A splendid program has been arranged for the February concert of the Beethoven club, which will be given at the Goodwyn Institute Saturday afternoon, Feb. 22, at 8 o'clock.

Plans for the afternoon will be given by Miss R. A. Street, Jesse Houck, James M. Smith, and R. A. Shepherd. Following is the program:
